We Need a King

When Joshua died there was really no one to take his place as he took Moses' place when he died. In the book of Judges, the only thing that went right was the tribe of Judah's asking God if they should attack the Canaanites (Judges 1:1-2). Judah asked for help from the tribe of Simeon, and together they won the battle. However, they lost other battles, and so did most of the tribes. They were supposed to conquer the land and the inhabitants, but they failed in their mission to take the land that God promised to them.

The nations that Israel didn't conquer would be a snare to them (Judges 2:3). Israel would go through a cycle where they would begin to worship the gods of these nations, a nation would take over, they would cry out for help to God, God would send a deliverer, the judge would defeat the invaders, and the nation would have rest. Then the cycle would start again after a generation. Israel got a series of judges that were increasingly bad. The book of Judges ends with a statement that characterizes Israel in her service to God. "In those days there was no king in Israel; everyone did what was right in his own eyes" (Judges 21:25).

The ending of Judges anticipates the reign of David. Although David provided good leadership during his reign, he was not the king that Israel or anyone really needed. David was a shadow to a coming king like no other. That King is Jesus. His kingdom is not of this world (John 18:36). He came to defeat death; and his resurrection is the proof that he indeed defeated death and the one who has the power of death (Hebrews 2:14). He conquered the real enemy. That is why we need Him!
